

Lulworth House Residential Care Home confirmed as finalist in Caring UK Awards

We are thrilled to announce that Lulworth House Residential Care Home is a finalist in the prestigious Caring UK Awards 2021.

Our Home has been officially confirmed as a finalist in the 'Excellence and Innovation in Dementia Care' category after being recognised for its outstanding commitment to enhancing Dementia care, spearheaded by our Manager, Catherine Singh.

Having attended a Butterfly Dementia Training Course, which values emotional intelligence and domestic household living, Catherine implemented her learning at Lulworth House – sharing her vision for our Home with residents, families, staff and management and getting approval to enhance our gardens and services for people with Dementia.

Nellsar's Managing Director Martin Barrett commented:

"Catherine is a warm and caring individual who is always looking at ways to improve our care services, home environment, experiences and opportunities for her residents who live with Dementia, whilst also supporting their families and her staff team. She worked tirelessly to achieve her aim in enhancing the environment at Lulworth, which is appreciated by residents and staff alike."

Our Home will now go through to the next round of judging alongside seven other finalists, with the overall winner being announced at a glitzy awards ceremony at The Athena, Leicester, on Thursday 2 December.

Good luck team!
